FAIR OF VACANCIES IN KhNAHU

One of the tasks of the EANET project is expansion of a network of the businesses, which are headed by alumni-entrepreneurs of the university, through involving future graduates of ALMA MATER. The solution of the task was clearly demonstrated at the Fair of Vacancies that took place at the end of April in Kharkov National Automobile and Highway University (KhNAHU). Its sponsor was the university's Department for Graduates Employment Assistance under the auspices of the Regional Employment Centre in Kharkov region. More than 50 entrepreneurs-employers, 30 of them are the alumni of the KhNAHU, took part in the fair. Various fields of entrepreneurial activity, different specialties, positions and the companies of various size were presented there. The clients of the fair were a great number of third and fourth year students of various faculties. The open and friendly atmosphere, bright advertisement stands and booklets were available at the fair. Multiple contacts resulted in agreements between employers and employees on the specialties chosen. In addition, wonderful mood of employers and students followed it as students understood that their knowledge and skills, which were gained in the university, were in demand. It motivates students to mine knowledge.

The fair is traditional but this time the number of both employers and applicants was record. It clearly testifies that nowadays the process of employment and training of highly qualified specialists is more topical and significant.
